AN ECONOMIC SURVEY OF ALBANIA

PART 1 - ALBANIA'S FOREIGN TRADE

1950 - 1964

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

This is the first part of an economic study of Albania which we hope to complete in the course of the next twelve months. As at present planned, the complete study will consist of four parts:-

1. Foreign Trade.
2. Industry, Communications and Investment.
3. Agriculture.
4. Economic Atlas.

Most of the data come from Statistical Yearbooks which Albania has now been issuing for a number of years. Before the break with the Soviet Union, Russian and English translations were usually issued with these year books and, despite the indifference of the translation it was usually possible to understand what was intended in one language or another. Since then translations, when available, have been into English only and a very cramped English too. Translation direct from the Albanian has been the only possibility of making sense of the original. This has been greatly hampered by the lack of an up-to-date technical dictionary from Albanian into any other language: the available Albanian-English dictionaries are concerned mainly with the literary language and are anyhow fairly aged. A French-Albanian dictionary of fair standard has recently been published in Tirana and has been used as a check on the Albanian-English translation, but the user is warned that there may be inaccuracies in translation.

Other sources have been various Soviet geographies and year books as well as a number of English language communiqués published in Tirana.

G.W. Hemy.

Values are given f.o.b. for exports, c.i.f. for imports.

Throughout the period 50 foreign exchange leks = U.S. $ 1.00

This is one of a number of booklets dealing with industrial developments in Communist countries published by Joseph Crosfield & Sons, Limited of Warrington, as a service to British Industry and freely available to all who can make use of them. They are based exclusively on material published in the Soviet Union and other countries of the Communist block, most of it in the original language. Editorial comment is restricted to pointing out an occasional inconsistency or the clarification of a reference which might give difficulty to the reader. The object of the series is purely to report what these countries say about themselves without trying to support a particular thesis. In these circumstances we ought to make it clear that Joseph Crosfield & Sons, Limited do not thereby recommend any products or processes described nor warrant that their use is free from patent or other restriction.

We think that the reader who has arrived at this point will not take exception to our stating that in issuing these booklets Crosfield hope to do themselves an incidental service by making their name known in favourable circumstances to those companies who do not already know them. Crosfield manufacture sodium and potassium silicates, industrial detergents, silica gels, nickel and hydrocarbon cracking catalysts and a growing range of related fine particles which have solved many difficult problems of matting, flattening, antiblocking, caking, dosing and so on. We do not pursue anyone merely because they have received one of these booklets, but we should be delighted to have you get in touch with us if you think we may be able to help you. We have another series of booklets - in our opinion equally useful and factual - which describe our products and their uses, as far as they have yet been discovered.
